We require as soon as possible

AN OUTSTANDING PRIMARY CLASSROOM TEACHER

with teaching responsibility for primary aged children across KS1 and flexibility to work across lower and middle phases

Salary Up to £50,935 Plus SEN1 Allowance of £2,270

This is a full time/permanent position.

We are looking for an outstanding, enthusiastic and creative teacher to join us in raising standards for our learners.

You will already be;

An outstanding classroom teacher with primary mainstream or special school teaching experience

Proactive, resourceful and energetic

You will have;

- A commitment to improving the outcomes and life chances of young people with complex special educational needs
- The skills to continuously improve the learning experience for our children

The post will involve teaching, care and pastoral responsibility for a class base and is ideal for an outstanding classroom practitioner looking to develop their teaching career in special education.

The post is suitable for NQTs.

Brent Knoll is an all age special school for children and young people with social and communication difficulties including autism. Many of our learners also have significant learning difficulties. The school moved to a purpose built building in September 2015 with outstanding facilities which have brought new and exciting opportunities for enriching the curriculum and learning. If you are interested in an exciting future in special school education in a cutting edge provision and working collaboratively alongside experienced and like-minded colleagues this could be the post for you.

You will benefit from opportunities for further professional development and career progression as we value and support staff in all aspects of school life. We offer the support of working with a multidisciplinary team of professionals. We have a comprehensive induction programme for staff and a highly supportive leadership team as well as Leading Practitioners on the staff team to provide expert advice and training for colleagues.

We are committed to the well-being of all our staff and offer the benefits of a comprehensive programme of activities in support of this.

The school is fully committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people and we implement all aspects of the safer recruitment process.
